BRITISH WILL NOT SUPPORT PROPOSED ASSN. OF NATIONS

HEAD OF BRITISH DELEGATION SAYS "WE DO NOT WANT TWO LEAGUES OF NATIONS"

By CARL D. GROAT,
(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)
Washington, Nov. 29.—President Harding's proposed "Association of Nations" must fulfill functions other than those of the league of nations if it is to have the British support. Parallel lines will not suit. The idea stood out incisively today as the result of a brief interview with Arthur J. Balfour of the British arms delegation, in which he remarked:

"We don't want two leagues of nations, do we?"
Balfour has been avoiding with consummate skill any statement which would bind his government officially, but his brief talk on the subject left the conviction that he stands strongly for the league and is opposed to any association in Washington—emphasis on Washington—for an international part.

"On Saturday you suggested you did not read the papers as to President Harding's association idea. Can you say something today about the subject?" he was asked.

"I haven't really studied the matter yet," he said.

"Can you say then how you stand on the league of nations?" he was further asked.

"I don't really like to enter into a discussion of that now," he replied. "But I must say that the league has done some very beneficial things."

OMAHA PACKING MEN WILL STRIKE OVER WAGE CUT

Omaha, Nov. 29.—Omaha packing plant workers today voted in favor of a strike here to resist announced wage cuts if a majority of employees of the industry in other packing centers want to take similar action.

The vote was taken at a mass meeting called by the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workers' union of North America. According to Jacob Davis, president of the Union's district council, 50 per cent of those who attended were nonunion workers.

Action followed an address by Mr. Davis, who said that he described conditions as they existed in the packing industry "in an impartial way" so that the workers could decide for themselves what they wanted to do. About 1,500 employees were present, Mr. Davis said.

A resolution was adopted repudiating the action of the plant conference boards in accepting wage reductions.

Woman Majority On Burch Trial Jury Seen

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—That a majority of the jurors in the trial of Arthur C. Burch for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy would be women, seemed probable. Of the 12 talesmen in the box, accepted subject to peremptory challenge, 11 were women.

Counsel for the defendant by their challenges last week indicated a preference for jurors of that sex. Their 11 remaining challenges are more than sufficient to keep from the jury enough of the men whose names remain undrawn, to keep the male sex in the minority. The prosecution had only four challenges left at the opening of court today, and indications were the jury would be completed and sworn late today or tomorrow.

Burch Jury 10 Women, 2 Men

Washington, Nov. 29.—All eyes in the arms limitation conference today were turned toward Japan.

Overshadowing all other developments in the conference is the controversy now believed to be near a decision as to how great the Japanese navy should be cut.

British opposition to Harding's association of nations was made clearly by the significant remarks of Arthur Balfour: "We don't want two leagues of nations, do we?"

France, Rene Viviani said, is opposed to Germany's admission to the conference as suggested by President Harding.

Washington, Nov. 29.—President Harding's association of nations is not intended as a rival of the league of nations nor is there any intention of undermining the Wilson league, it was authoritatively announced at the White House today.

DOWNING STREET MOVED TO U. S.

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 29.—If the delegations of foreign nations to the conference were to adopt a slogan "Efficiency should surely be selected by the British."

It is but a few days since seventy-nine Britishers, male and female, stepped off the Pullman at the Union station here, the men with walking sticks and gloves, the women secretaries neatly veiled and "tailor made;" and already the official homes of Great Britain here are taking on the atmosphere of Downing street at its best.

In the Franklin Square hotel where two whole floors have been given up to the British for offices, an American visitor would feel almost strange. As he steps off the elevator at the second floor, a uniformed British marine clicks to attention and asks his business. If everything is in order the visitor is conducted to a waiting room. While he waits the London Times is laid out on a table before him. The walls are adorned with British calendars. Through the thin partitions come the voices of the fair haller English stenographers rattling away, for all the world as if they were at home in London and the street outside was Whitehall and not 14th street, Washington, D. C.

Everything in that series of little offices is orderly, neat, arranged. In the rooms of the directors of the various branches of the British government concerned in the conference tweed suited men leisurely dictate letters; a telephone bell rings and the broad accent of London town carries over the wires to another "little England" on Connecticut Avenue—the home of Sir Auckland Geddes and the British embassy.

"What's that. You want to see Sir John.....Oh rather. At five and twenty minutes past five? Right.....". Bang. Down goes the receiver and the letter is casually finished. No speed, no rush, no panic. Just an orderly little office full of very ordinary orderly people. But they do the work. Telephonic communication between all the British residences and the British embassy, thanks to American ingenuity and British demand, has been brought to nothing short of fine art.

They are going to have a Better Citizens' day in Philadelphia. But how can a Philadelphian be better without becoming an angel?—New York Herald.

CONSTABLES

(By United Press)
Belfast, Ireland, Nov. 29—Owing to Sinn Fein outrages, the Ulster cabinet has authorized the enrollment of 5,700 special constables, who are determined to protect life and property. Premier Craig told the Ulster parliament today.

Ulster, Craig declared, will not be to blame if the negotiations for peace in Ireland are broken off. He announced Lloyd George had proposed an all Ireland parliament. In such an organization, Sinn Fein would have a majority.

"I told Lloyd George it was utterly impossible," Craig said. "Ulster will not have it. We will not submit to Sinn Fein government."

OPPOSES GERMAN MEMBERSHIP IN THE ASSN. OF NATIONS

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 29—"Why should Germany be admitted to a conference of nations? What is there for her to discuss?" This in effect was the attitude of Rene Viviani, nominal head of the French delegation today toward the proposal to include Germany in an association of nations. The Frenchman made his reply to a possible meeting of the association next year.

Beatty Says Britain Should Command Sea

N. Y. POLICE BOATS CAPTURE RUM RUN- NERS AND BOOZE

FOUND 25 CASES OF SCOTCH WHISKY—SIX BOOTLEGGERS ESCAPE

(By United Press.)
New York, Nov. 29—Seven bootleggers were captured, six were forced to jump overboard and two motor launches were taken by harbor police early today in clashes with rum runners.

A police boat overhauled a rum running launch in the East River shortly after midnight. Six bootleggers jumped into the water and escaped. Police seized the boat and found 25 cases of Scotch whiskey on board.

The two launches slipped up alongside the liner President Wilson, and according to police, several sacks were lowered from the steamer to the launches. When the other launch finally surrendered all the liquor except 30 bottles of rum had been thrown overboard.

ST. PAUL'S CHIEF IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Nov. 28—Within the last weeks Chief of Police Henry Crepeau has been named in damage suits totaling $100,000. Most of the suits are based on alleged false imprisonment. He was served with papers today in a suit for $20,000 by George C. Chambers alleging false arrest and imprisonment. Chambers was held in connection with the slugging of a school principal. He stated he was not permitted to communicate with his sick wife, the family physician, his friends or an attorney during his incarceration.

DOWNING STREET MOVED TO U. S.

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 29—If the delegations of foreign nations to the conference were to adopt a slogan "Efficiency should surely be selected by the British."

It is but a few days since seventy-nine Britishers, male and female, stepped off the Pullman at the Union station here, the men with walking sticks and gloves, the women secretaries neatly veiled and "tailor made;" and already the official homes of Great Britain here are taking on the atmosphere of Downing street at its best.

In the Franklin Square hotel where two whole floors have been given up to the British for offices, an American visitor would feel almost strange. As he steps off the elevator at the second floor, a uniformed British marine clicks to attention and asks his business. If everything is in order the visitor is conducted to a waiting room. While he waits the London Times is laid out on a table before him. The walls are adorned with British calendars. Through the thin partitions come the voices of the fair hailer English stenographers rattling away, for all the world as if they were at home in London and the street outside was Whitehall and not 14th street, Washington, D. C.

Everything in that series of little offices is orderly, neat, arranged. In the rooms of the directors of the various branches of the British government concerned in the conference two suited men leisurely dictate letters; a telephone bell rings and the broad accent of London town carries over the wires to another "little England" on Connecticut Avenue—the home of Sir Auckland Geddes and the British embassy.

"What's that. You want to see Sir John. Oh rather. At five and twenty minutes past five? Righto. . . . Bang. Down goes the receiver and the letter is casually finished. No speed, no rush, no panic. Just an orderly little office full of very ordinary orderly people. But they do the work. Telephonic communication between all the British residences and the British embassy, thanks to American ingenuity and British demand, has been brought to nothing short of fine art.

They are going to have a Better Citizens' day in Philadelphia. But how can a Philadelphian be better without becoming an angel?—New York Herald.

"SHERLOCK HOLMES" TESTIFIES IN FATTY ARBuckle CASE

(By United Press)
San Francisco, Nov. 29—E. O. Heinrich, "Sherlock Holmes" of the Roscoe Arbuckle case, told today how he pushed microscope to the floor of Arbuckle's room after the Labor Day party preceding the death of Virginia Rappe. He was called by the state to add his testimony to the manslaughter charge against Arbuckle.

He described having seen numerous hairs on the floor of the room—widely scattered, all corresponding to those of Miss Rappe, "peculiar distribution of dust, two tortoise shell hairpins, debris from clothing and finger prints on the door, were what Sherlock found.

He was not permitted to draw distinctions and evidence was allowed to stand only as proof that the maids had not thoroughly cleaned the rooms.

Women Retain Postal Rights Though Married

Washington, Nov. 29—Postmaster General Will Hays has decided that a woman postal employee does not change her status nor lose her right in the service by marriage.

Heretofore, when an unmarried woman holding the position of postmaster, married, she was obliged to obtain a new appointment, execute a new bond or pass the required civil service examination in competition with other candidates seeking the office, if she had not previously taken such an examination.

Under the new ruling this cannot happen as the woman postmaster will continue to hold the office without a reappointment or another examination.

HERO OF ARGONNE IS MISSING AND HIS FRIENDS FEAR SUICIDE

(By United Press)

General Revolt Seen By British in India

(By United Press)
Calcutta, India, Nov. 29—British troops are resorting to every strategy to bring about a decisive battle with the Moplah rebels. Continuation of the guerilla warfare in the jungles is becoming increasingly dangerous to all the whites.

Never has there been such widespread sedition in India. On all sides the natives are being arrayed against the whites. Numerous leaders are seeking to aid the Moplahs by establishing new centers of revolt. British officers forecast a general outbreak, which may be prevented only by the traditional fear on the part of the Indians of the sahib—the European master.

The British are planning to concentrate all Moplah women in camps, seize all foods and cooking utensils and thus attempt to reduce the Moplah fighting men to risk a general battle in order to escape starvation.

TRIANGLE SALE

Held Last Saturday by Gruenhagen Company Proved a Great Success, Said Firm Representative

"Our Triangle Sale of aluminum ware held last Saturday was a complete success and by noon one-half the goods had been disposed of and in the afternoon and evening up to 8 o'clock there was a continuous stream of purchasers," said a representative of the Gruenhagen company which staged the sale.

"The Gruenhagen Company," said he, "make eighty per cent of purchases direct from the factory and thus do away with the jobbers' discounts. It is because of this that such a low price can be made and still yield a small profit. Another lot of aluminum has been ordered by express to continue the Triangle Sale for another week at the same prices."

At a special meeting of the board of education Monday evening, the Mill school was accepted following the report of the building committee. All members were present except two lady members of the board, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and Mrs. A. H. Anderson.

C. Gearhart of Becker, Minn.

Extras allowed him were items amounting to $737 and covered, among other things a cement sidewalk built from school to the street line, an extra inch of cement surfacing on the cement floor in the basement on account of the peculiar water situation in Northeast Brainerd, outside concrete steps plus another door, extra cost for hauling water for cement work, etc.

The board is of the opinion that the new Mill school may be occupied within ten days.

TRIANGLE SALE

Held Last Saturday by Gruenhagen Company Proved a Great Success, Said Firm Representative

"Our Triangle Sale of aluminum ware held last Saturday was a complete success and by noon one-half the goods had been disposed of and in the afternoon and evening up to 5 o'clock there was a continuous stream of purchasers," said a representative of the Gruenhagen company which staged the sale.

"The Gruenhagen Company," said he, "make eighty per cent of purchases direct from the factory and thus do away with the jobbers' discounts. It is because of this that such a low price can be made and still yield a small profit. Another lot of aluminum has been ordered by express to continue the Triangle Sale for another week at the same prices."

Uncle Eben,

"It's easier," said Uncle Eben, "to sell a man some kind of a gold brick than it is to give him valuable advice free of charge."

DIZZY SPELLS?

If You Have Heat Flashes or Smothering Spells, You Should Not Overlook One Word of This

Winona, Minn.—"At middle life I was terribly distressed with heat flashes and smothering spells. I would become quite dizzy at times, too. I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and felt the benefit right away, so I kept on taking it until I was safely thru that critical period. It was really remarkable how quickly Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription relieved me of all my distress and I came thru middle life in excellent health. I praise this good medicine at every opportunity."—Mrs. Rose Buse, 416 High Forest St.

Some Extras are Allowed Contractor D. C. Gearhart and Some Deductions are Made

At a special meeting of the board of education Monday evening, the Mill school was accepted following the report of the building committee. All members were present except two lady members of the board, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and Mrs. A. H. Anderson.

The building committee reported favorably, recommending the acceptance of the building after making deductions of $442.31 from the contractors' price of $9,751.17, on account of certain unavoidable alterations in door partitions, changes in plastering, etc. The general contractor was D. C. Gearhart of Becker, Minn.

Extras allowed him were itemized amounting to $737 and covered, among other things a cement sidewalk built from school to the street line, an extra inch of cement surfacing on the cement floor in the basement on account of the peculiar water situation in Northeast Brainerd, outside concrete steps plus another door, extra cost for hauling water for cement work, etc.

The board is of the opinion that the new Mill school may be occupied within ten days.

SALVATION ARMY WORK IN BRAINERD

Capt. Olson Reported at Advisory Board Meeting Held at Ransford Hotel Monday

FAITHFUL BAND OF WORKERS

Slogan of the Army is Well Known, "A Man May be Down, But He's Never Out"

Statistics are dry reading, usually, but back of the statistics of Salvation Army Relief Work are heart throbs aplenty. The work done in this community by Capt. Olson and his wife and their faithful band of willing workers has been so quietly done that few of us know the great good accomplished.

Here is Capt. Olson's report: Lodgings furnished 23, meals 47, transportation charges (six persons) $12, garments supplied 444, shoes 163, pairs, beds furnished 3, mattresses 3, funerals 6. Eighteen Christmas baskets were given by the Army last Christmas, also.

Take any one of these items and with a sympathetic heart find in it the human interest. For instance, take the first one, "Lodgings 23." Twenty-three persons, who, like the Master, had no place to lay their heads, were furnished with a clean, comfortable place to sleep. Think what it must mean to some tired, discouraged man, or some poor, silly young girl who has made a mistake and feels she is an outcast from home, to have some one take a warm, kindly interest, and provide shelter for the night.

With the sunlight comes encouragement, and despair does not look so black after a comfortable night's sleep. At the turning point of many life the Salvation Army workers steps in, and through timely help and guidance, those who have almost gone down in the storm of life have become happy and useful citizens.

The slogan of the Salvation Army is "A Man May be Down, but He's Never Out." The aid extended by it tends to restore the self-respect of the recipient. In the Army's Rescue and Maternity homes the upbuilding of character is one of the big things accomplished. The girls are taught useful occupations, and many of them develop into splendid women. Wonderful tributes are given daily by those who have been helped by this noble band of men and women who have consecrated their lives to serve God and humanity.

FAIR IN DECEMBER

Business and Professional Women's Club to Stage One—New Furniture in Club Room

There will be a special meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday evening, November 30 at the club rooms in the Lyceum building. All members are urged to attend, as a number of important matters are to be discussed. A proposition from the American Legion has been made to the club, a vote of the majority deciding what action shall be taken.

Mrs. Mary T. Wishman, affectionately known all over the country as simply "Mary T.," will give a little talk that will be of much interest to all. Mrs. Wishman has a charming personality, and the members will surely enjoy hearing her.

Plans for a fair to be held in December will be perfected, and all are asked to bring what material they can find that might be of use in getting up a fair. Several new members will be taken in at this meeting, and any having names of prospective members should get them in at this special meeting. Otherwise, they will have to wait until the regular meeting in December.

New furniture has been placed in the club rooms, also several attractive cushions and a new picture, all of which adds to their charm and comfort. The installing of a telephone means a greater use of the club rooms as meetings can be easily arranged.

In the December issue "The Independent Woman Magazine", published in New York City, will carry an article about the Brainerd club. Later on, an article by one of the Brainerd members will be published in this magazine, which is the official bulletin of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

The bride is a very charming young girl, formerly a teacher, and the bridegroom is a young business man of Brainerd. They kept the wedding secret and went to the bridegroom's lake cottage at White Fish lake to spend their honeymoon.

JUNIOR MUSICAL CLUB

Effective Decorations, Kimona Clad Maidens Change Burnett Home to Bit of Japan

Effective decorations and kimona clad maidens transformed the C. L. Burnett home into a bit of old Japan as a setting for "Madame Butterfly", Monday evening.

This was the first of a series of grand opera evenings that the student members of the Brainerd Musical club are to enjoy during the winter.

By the aid of this decidedly oriental atmosphere and the magic of Mr. Burnett's description, it took only a little imagination to see the pagoda on the hill, nestled among the cherry blossoms, with the sea for a background. This was the scene of the most intense bliss and the keenest anguish that human heart can know, whether that heart beats in the orient or in the occident. Those who have that pleasure in anticipation will have their appreciation doubled by having listened to so intelligent and sympathetic a reading of the opera.

The charm of the music of this opera was well illustrated by the rendition by Mrs. Mal D. Clark of "One Fine Day." Mrs. Clark was in excellent voice and did herself great credit. She was accompanied by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland, who adds to the pleasure of any program. Mrs. Wieland has the music in charge for the entire series. When it is impossible to secure soloists, the Victrola will be used for purposes of illustration. On this occasion the "Duet of the Flowers" was so rendered.

AN ECONOMIC WASTE

It has long been evident, as shown on many occasions, that the mind of a true Wilsonite cannot be divorced from politics. The solemn and impressive ceremonies at the funeral of an unknown soldier in Washington were referred to as "Republican show" and now, apparently as an argument against Secretary Hughes' plan for the reduction of armament, Democratic papers are complaining that if the scrapping of ships is undertaken as proposed, it will mean the closing down of most of the U. S. Navy yards, and thus throw many men out of employment. In short, in order to provide continued employment for the men now engaged in the navy yards, they would have the government keep up its naval construction work.

We doubt very much if this argument will find much popular support. Military expenditures are usually an economic waste, except, of course, so far as military preparedness is necessary for national safety. If the government has $100,000,000 to spend it will furnish employment for more men in highway construction than in battleship construction, and the country will be economically better off for the expenditure on highways. The government, however, at the present time, has not the money to spend.

The chief purposes of the limitation of armament movement, however, are to prevent wars, if possible, and relieve the people from taxation. The people everywhere are being taxed to death. Capital is being taxed so heavily in this country that it is going out of productive industry and going into tax free municipal bonds. Relief from Federal taxes is the great demand today—and it is a just demand. Those who would keep the navy yards running in order to give employment to a relatively few people will get little encouragement.

CHECKING CONGRESSIONAL LAXITY

A reform introduced in Congress by the new national budget system, and indorsed by the chairman of the appropriation committee, will root out one of the time-honored laxities in Federal finance. We allude to the custom that has grown up of authorizing continuing or permanent appropriations, for certain purposes, bureaus or departments. They usually covered fixed activities, such as the continuance of programs carried on from year to year until completed. Originally urged by administration officials in the fear that Congressional failure to appropriate each year might halt the work, they have been expanded to a custom that meant the appropriation of certain sums almost without investigation, just as a matter of routine.

Of course, this species of "easy money" invited abuses, careless spending, and extravagance. Chairman Madden and Mr. Dawes decided to stop the practice, and hereafter each department will have to carry all its expenditures where they can be reviewed and investigated annually, and must be before the appropriations are authorized. The assurance of this annual overhauling will check any tendency to waste and demand that the need be expressly proved.

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ## INDIVIDUALISM VS. PATERNALISM

The Harding administration has from the very outset turned a deaf ear to all propositions which smacked of state socialism or had for their end the invasion by the Government of the field of private enterprise and initiative. And because of this policy, the United States has traveled further on the road to normalcy than any other nation which participated in the war, and the manner of its journeying has been in strict observance of the rules of sound economics. We have pursued the policy of getting out of business and letting individual resourcefulness, industry and independent self-respect have full swing. The result has been a vindication of the policy of individualism as against the policy of paternalism. It is not necessary for this country to belong to any international communism in order that it may fulfill its duty to civilization.

GETTING CLOSER TOGETHER

The press very generally seems to be of the opinion that the attitude of the United States encouraged China to demand restoration of her rights. To some extent this may be true, but it is also worth while to note that an informal announcement had been made that Great Britain stood ready to yield her concessions in China if other nations would do likewise. It is evident to everyone that the United States and Great Britain are getting closer together each day, largely, no doubt, because Great Britain begins to appreciate more fully the friendly feeling that exists, and should exist, between the people of the British colonies and the people of the United States. And it can also be said, that so far as the United States is concerned, there is no reason why there should be other than the kindest of cooperation between this country and England.

It has generally been understood that during Mr. Wilson's illness, Mr. Tumulty was actually conducting the work of the President, but it remained for his recently published letters to disclose to what a large extent he was directing the affairs of the government before the President broke down in health.

LEGION STAND IS ELABORATE

American Federation of Labor, Says
Writer, and Legion Have Much in
Common in Legislative Fields

NO OFFICERS' ORGANIZATION

American Legion's Membership Now
Over a Million, It's Daily Helping Ex-Service Men

(Contributed)

Unless the facts are known an organization may be misunderstood and its mission misinterpreted. Such misunderstandings are often removed when the facts of the case are impartially considered. Sometimes one hears that such-and-such an organization is a class product organized for and operated in the interests of one particular class. And quite often the facts disprove the assertion. Such a statement has at times been made relative to the American Legion. But the statement is not true.

In the first place George L. Berry, of Tennessee, President of the International Persimmon and Assistant Union and one of the founder of the American Legion, is a national vice-president of the American Legion. Speaking at the American Legion convention at Kansas City, after stating that his message came direct from Samuel Gompers, Mr. Berry said "The Federation (that is the American Federation of Labor from which Mr. Berry carried greetings) and the Legion have much in common in the legislative fields, in that they both are advocates of progressive, constructive, humanitarian legislation, and because they are both non-partisan in politics, seeking to promote the interests of the state rather than the politician. There is every reason why our two organizations should maintain a contact that will be helpful to the whole of the communities in America."

And this ex-soldier, the president of an international labor union is also a vice president of the American Legion.

Again it has been said that the American Legion is an officers' organization. Such a charge would not need a word in rebuttal if the person making the charge would look over the list of members of our local post. But how senseless is the charge. From whence does the American Legion draw its membership? Its membership is over one million. But no one would suggest that there were over a million officers in the American army.

No, the American Legion is not an officers' organization but it is largely an organization of privates.

Yet again it has been said that the members of the Legion are under certain obligations to the government and are subject to call to suppress disorders. There is not a word of truth in this statement. The members of the Legion are not soldiers but citizens and their duties are not those of soldiers but those of citizens. It is not a military organization. It is a civilian organization; an organization of citizens who were soldiers in the world war.

The American Legion is out for helping ex-service men. It has a splendid record of achievements along this line. It has led the government to consider the needs of the disabled men. It has pointed out that the man who served did so at a financial sacrifice and has made the claim that this loss should be adjusted. It is strong for the adjusted compensation. In Crow Wing county it is, in cooperation with the Red Cross, cutting the red tape and making it possible for men to get hospital treatment and vocational training.

Ex-service men the American Legion belongs to you. Enter it and you have as much to do with the policy of the local post or the national organization as any other one man. It is the most democratic institution in America.

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week the members of the Legion are asking you to come in and share the good times and help the Legion do its good work. Get in touch with a Legion man and sign up. By paying three dollars you will be a member in good standing until the end of 1922. Come along buddies! Get into the big thing. It's yours. Let's go.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our most sincere thanks to our kind neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to us at the time of our beloved wife and mother's death, Mrs. O. B. Hamline, and also for the many beautiful spiritual and floral offerings.

MR. O. B. HAMLINE
AND FAMILY.

American Legion Corner

Practically every former service man in Crow Wing county has been interviewed within the last month by a joint Legion-Red Cross-good citizen representative working under direction of A. A. Gieriet, Legion commander of Crow Wing county. Sixth District Commander Milton Mahlum will urge every Legion county commander in his district to put on a similar campaign, for the service man, not only in Crow Wing county, but in the entire Sixth district, has all the medical, financial, and other rights which the state or the nation has set aside for its defenders.

A home of its own is the dream of every Legion post. Post No. 96 of Hutchinson, Minn., isn't waiting for the funds to drop from some tree like ripe fruit. Its Legion baseball team cleaned up $1,382 last summer, and after deducting expenses there will be enough left to make a good start on the post's new Legion home next spring.

December 31, 1921, is the time set as the limit up to which applications for Minnesota State Bonus will be considered. Thereafter, they will be outlawed.

A South Dakota Legion Post is offering each service man who pays Legion dues for 1922 before December 15, a biscuit baked by a recent bride and member of the Legion Auxiliary. Three of these biscuits will contain cash prizes—$20, $10 and $5 in gold, but no biscuit is to be opened until the night of the Post banquet, when they will serve as admission tickets. There is a big rush for the biscuits and the Legionnaires are all on edge awaiting the fatal night.

Down in Kansas the finance committee of a Legion post choose 4 a. m. as the best time to collect 1922 dues. Members of the committee rout the Legionnaires out of bed at that unearthly hour and refuse to let them slumber again until they pay up.

A Wisconsin Legion Post has announced that the last of its members to pay 1922 dues will suffer the derision of spending an evening in an improvised guard house. The various departments of the Legion have started a contest to see which will be the first to complete remittance of 1922 dues for all its paid-up 1921 members.

Every Minnesota Legion Post which, by 5 p. m. December 31, 1921, was remitted the 1922 dues of 75 per cent of its present paid-up membership, will be presented with a lithographed dictation signed by the Department Commander and the Department Adjutant.

Marshal Foch says: "Yours is a great organization. But you can make it greater and stronger by getting every man who served under ..."

American colors to enroll himself under its banner. He owes it to himself and to his nation to be a member of the great American Legion.

American Federation of Labor, Says
Writer, and Legion Have Much in
Common in Legislative Fields

NO OFFICERS' ORGANIZATION

American Legion's Membership Now
Over a Million, It's Daily Helping Ex-Service Men

(Contributed)

Unless the facts are known an organization may be misunderstood and its mission misinterpreted. Such misunderstandings are often removed when the facts of the case are impartially considered. Sometimes one hears that such-and-such an organization is a class product organized for and operated in the interests of one particular class. And quite often the facts disprove the assertion. Such a statement has at times been made relative to the American Legion. But the statement is not true.

In the first place George L. Berry, of Tennessee, President of the International Persmen's and Assistants Union and one of the founder of the American Legion, is a national vice president of the American Legion. Speaking at the American Legion convention at Kansas City, after stating that his message came direct from Samuel Gompers, Mr. Berry said "The Federation (that is the American Federation of Labor from which Mr. Berry carried greetings) and the Legion have much in common in the legislative fields, in that they both are advocates of progressive, constructive, humanitarian legislation, and because they are both non-partisan in politics, seeking to promote the interests of the state rather than the politician. There is every reason why our two organizations should maintain a contact that will be helpful to the whole of the communities in America."

And this ex-soldier, the president of an international labor union is also a vice president of the American Legion.

Again it has been said that the American Legion is an officers' organization. Such a charge would not need a word in rebuttal if the person making the charge would look over the list of members of our local post. But how senseless is the charge. From whence does the American Legion draw its membership? Its membership is over one million. But no one would suggest that there were over a million officers in the American army.

No, the American Legion is not an officers' organization but it is largely an organization of privates.

Yet again it has been said that the members of the Legion are under certain obligations to the government and are subject to call to suppress disorders. There is not a word of truth in this statement. The members of the Legion are not soldiers but citizens and there duties are not those of soldiers but those of citizens. It is not a military organization. It is a civilian organization; an organization of citizens who were soldiers in the world war.

The American Legion is out for helping ex-service men. It has a splendid record of achievements along this line. It has led the government to consider the needs of the disabled men. It has pointed out that the man who served did so at a financial sacrifice and has made the claim that this loss should be adjusted. It is strong for the adjusted compensation in Crow Wing county it is, in cooperation with the Red Cross, cutting the red tape and making it possible for men to get hospital treatment and vocational training.

Ex-service men the American Legion belongs to you. Enter it and you have as much to do with the policy of the local post or the national organization as any other one man. It is the most democratic institution in America.

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week the members of the Legion are asking you to come in and share the good times and help the Legion do its good work. Get in touch with a Legion man and sign up. By paying three dollars you will be a member in good standing until the end of 1922. Come along buddies! Get into the big thing. It's yours. Let's go.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our most sincere thanks to our kind neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to us at the time of our beloved wife and mother's death, Mrs. O. B. Hamline, and also for the many beautiful spiritual and floral offerings.

MR. O. B. HAMLINE
AND FAMILY.

Practically every former service man in Crow Wing county has been interviewed within the last month by a joint Legion-Red Cross-good citizen representative working under direction of A. A. Gieriet, Legion commander of Crow Wing county. Sixth District Commander Milton Mahlum will urge every Legion county commander in his district to put on a similar campaign, for the service man, not only in Crow Wing county, but in the entire Sixth district, has all the medical, financial, and other rights which the state or the nation has set aside for its defenders.

A home of its own is the dream of every Legion post. Post No. 96 of Hutchinson, Minn., isn't waiting for the funds to drop from some tree like ripe fruit. Its Legion baseball team cleaned up $1,382 last summer, and after deducting expenses there will be enough left to make a good start on the post's new Legion home next spring.

December 31, 1921, is the time set as the limit up to which applications for Minnesota State Bonus will be considered. Thereafter, they will be outlawed.

A South Dakota Legion Post is offering each service man who pays Legion dues for 1922 before December 15, a biscuit baked by a recent bride and member of the Legion Auxiliary. Three of these biscuits will contain cash prizes—$20, $10 and $5 in gold, but no biscuit is to be opened until the night of the Post banquet, when they will serve as admission tickets. There is a big rush for the biscuits and the Legionaires are all on edge awaiting the fatal night.

Down in Kansas the flannce committee of a Legion post choose 4 a. m. as the best time to collect 1922 dues. Members of the committee rout the Legionaires out of bed at that unearthly hour and refuse to let them slumber again until they pay up.

A Wisconsin Legion Post has announced that the last of its members to pay 1922 dues will suffer the derision of spending an evening in an improvised guard house. The various departments of the Legion have started a contest to see which will be the first to complete remittance of 1922 dues for all its paid-up 1921 members.

Every Minnesota Legion Post which, by 5 p. m. December 31, 1921, was remitted the 1922 dues of 75 per cent of its present paid-up membership, will be presented with a lithographed citation signed by the Department Commander and the Department Adjutant.

Marshal Foch says: "Yours is a great organization. But you can make it greater and stronger by getting every man who served under ...

American colors to enroll himself under its banner. He owes it to himself and to his nation to be a member of the great American Legion.

EMIL HILL FOUND FROZEN IN ROAD

Train Crew of the Northern Pacific
Railway Company Saw Body
Lying Near Baxter

NEAR SWITCH EAST OF BAXTER

Arms Outstretched, Hill Lay In Old,
Unusual Roadway, Snow Tramp-
pled Down Near Him

Emil Hill, Brainerd car painter employed at the Northern Pacific railway shops, missing since November 19, was found Tuesday morning in an old, unused roadway at Baxter, near the first switch east of Baxter. The latter is simply a switch four miles west of Brainerd.

Hill lay with arms outstretched. His hands, face and legs were badly frozen. The snow about him was tramped down, indicating he may have realized his plight and tried to stave off death by freezing by tramping around. According to government weather records the night of November 19 heralded
a drop of temperature to 21 degrees
below zero.

According to stories prevailing, Hill
in company with a fellow roomer left
his boarding house in Southeast Brainerd at 6 o'clock that night and half an hour later his companion was found a few blocks away in a stupor.
When he recovered he could not tell where Hill had gone. Hill carried considerable money with him.

The remains were brought to Brainerd
by Undertaker B. C. McNamara
after he and Coroner Dr. C. A. Nelson had vainly tried to find the body along the railway track. An inquest will be held Tuesday afternoon.

The remains were identified by
Chief of Police Charles Varner. A receipt found in the pocket of the corpse
carried the name of Emil Hill.

Hill was about 34 years old, unmarried, and had been employed several years at the railway shops. He was well liked by his associates and his untimely end is deplored by all who knew him.

How Body Was Found

The Brainerd Dispatch was indirectly the cause of finding the body of Emil Hill.

For some days the crew of the local Northern Pacific freight running to Staples and back, of which Tom Peathers is conductor and John Gallagher head brakeman, had seen what looked like a bundle of old sacks
alongside the right of way near the east end of Baxter switch.

This morning Brakeman Gallagher recalled reading in the Dispatch of the lost man. Conductor Peathers stopped the train near the switch and the crew examined the supposed bundle of sacks in the roadway and found
it to be the body of a frozen man.

Conductor Peathers wired back to Brainerd at the next station, of finding the body of a man.

Missed the Body

Coroner Nelson and Undertaker
McNamara drove out in response to the telegram and instead of examining roads, examined the right of way found no body, returning home
and so reporting.

Given further instructions, Mr.
McNamara went out a second time
and then quickly located the body in the old roadway.

Tell the Paper

It proves one thing, that when peple are lost it's best to tell the newspaper and the news will be spread broadcast and cause people to interest themselves in the case.

The man has been out of sight
since November 19 and thanks to the vigilant train crew which read newspapers the body was recovered.

Big Values for Little Money

The coats in this lot are all from last season. We must take a heavy loss but the racks must be cleared. Some have fur collars; some are of heavy double face cloths; all are high grade garments. The former prices would seem incredible in view of present prices. No matter what the prices were they now go in two lots. One lot at $9.95, another at $19.75. Let us urge those wishing an economically priced coat to see these.

Dresses $8.50 Dresses

We are cleaning house in our dress section. These are dresses which have been honored with prices two, three and four times higher than we are now asking. Sizes are 16, 18 and 36. All good shades. Silk and wool. Enough said—they should sell quickly.

EMIL HILL FOUND FROZEN IN ROAD

Train Crew of the Northern Pacific
Railway Company Saw Body
Lying Near Baxter

NEAR SWITCH EAST OF BAXTER

Arms Outstretched, Hill Lay In Old,
Unusual Roadway. Snow Tramp-
pled Down Near Him

Emil Hill, Brainerd car painter employed at the Northern Pacific railway shops, missing since November 19, was found Tuesday morning in an old, unused roadway at Baxter, near the first switch east of Baxter. The latter is simply a switch four miles west of Brainerd.

Hill lay with arms outstretched. His hands, face and legs were badly frozen. The snow about him was tramped
down, indicating he may have realized
his plight and tried to save off death
by freezing by tramping around. According to government weather records the night of November 19 heralded
a drop of temperature to 21 degrees
below zero.

According to stories prevailing, Hill
his boarding house in Southeast
Brainerd at 6 o'clock that night and
half an hour later his companion was
found a few blocks away in a stupor.
When he recovered he could not tell
where Hill had gone. Hill carried considerable money with him.

The remains were brought to Brainerd
by Undertaker B. C. McNamara
after he and Coroner Dr. C. A. Nelson
had vainly tried to find the body along
the railway track. An inquest will be held Tuesday afternoon.

The remains were identified by
Chief of Police Charles Varner. A receipt found in the pocket of the corpse
carried the name of Emil Hill.

Hill was about 34 years old, unmarried, and had been employed several years at the railway shops. He was well liked by his associates and
his untimely end is deplored by all
who knew him.

How Body Was Found

The Brainerd Dispatch was indirectly the cause of finding the body
of Emil Hill.

For some days the crew of the local Northern Pacific freight running to Staples and back, of which Tom Feathers is conductor and John Gallagher head brakeman, had seen what
looked like a bundle of old sacks
alongside the right of way near the east end Baxter switch.

This morning Brakeman Gallagher
recalled reading in the Dispatch of the lost man, Conductor Feathers stopped the train near the switch and
the crew examined the supposed bundle of sacks in the roadway and found
it to be the body of a frozen man.

Conductor Feathers wired back to Brainerd at the next station, of finding the body of a man.

Missed the Body

Coroner Nelson and Undertaker
McNamara drove out in response to the telegram and instead of examining roads, examined the right of way found no body, returning home
and so reporting.

Given further instructions, Mr.
McNamara went out a second time
and then quickly located the body in
the old roadway.

Tell the Paper

It proves one thing, that when pe-
ple are lost it's best to tell the newspaper and the news will be spread
broadcast and cause people to interest themselves in the case.

The man has been out of sight
since November 19 and thanks to the vigilant 'rain crew which read newspapers the body was recovered.

Big Values for Little Money

The coats in this lot are all from last season. We must take a heavy loss but the racks must be cleared. Some have fur collars; some are of heavy double face cloths; all are high grade garments. The former prices would seem incredible in view of present prices. No matter what the prices were they now go in two lots. One lot at $9.95, another at $19.75. Let us urge those wishing an economically priced coat to see these.

Dresses $8.50 Dresses

We are cleaning house in our dress section. These are dresses
which have been honored with prices two, three and four times higher than we are now asking. Sizes are 16, 18 and 36. All good shades. Silk and wool. Enough said—they should sell quickly.

"The Four Horsemen" Coming: First $1,000,000 Photoplay

Rex Ingram's $1,000,000 production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," made for Metro, is announced by the New Park Theatre beginning December 2nd. This will be the first showing here of the screen version of Vicente Blasco Ibanez's novel that has been acclaimed in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles as marking a new epoch in the development of motion pictures. At its New York opening people paid $10.00 a seat. Critics said the picture had definitely established the screen not only as capable of rivaling the stage at its best, but of surpassing it in its grip upon the emotions.

"The Four Horsemen" is the supreme expression of the Great War. Certainly no novel has stirred the universal appeal created by the Ibanez masterpiece. The book, now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. The monumental task of transferring it to the screen was accomplished by June Mathis, who made a scenario that from all accounts has preserved the force of the original and in many incidents heightened it. But it is the director, Rex Ingram, who has apparently achieved the most sensational success. He is reported to have set a new mark in artistry of picturization.

Readers of the novel will recall the story poems on the Argentine ranch of Madariaga, whose territories are as extensive as those of the great independent barons of feudal times. And Madariaga rules with feudal power. A rioting, roystering despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and yearns for a male child to carry on his tradition. His two daughters have married ranch employees—one French and the other German. Madariaga's Latin antipathy to the German son-in-law brings with it a dislike of his half-German grandchildren, but when a son is born to the Frenchman, Desnoyers, the old man finds his dream realized. The boy, Julio, is selected as heir to the huge estate and is brought up as a spoiled prince of the realm. As a young man Julio becomes the companion of Madariaga's debauched adventures in Buenos Ayres long resorts. But Madariaga dies suddenly without making a will and the German branch of the family finds itself sharing the estate equally with the Desnoyers. With this sudden wealth, the two families leave the Argentine for Europe.

The Desnoyers settle in Paris, and Julio, an expert tango dancer, becomes the sensation of the fashionable dance places. He meets a fascinating little society woman, Marguerite Laurier, and the two of them are swept into a reckless love affair that takes no count of Marguerite's elderly husband. Their butterfly mentalities do not even respond at first to the sudden shock of war that breaks about them. It is 1914 and the Germans are advancing toward Paris. Marguerite is first awakened to the realization of tremendous events. She joins the French nursing force and sacrifices her love for Julio in order to be the constant companion of her husband, who is blinded in battle. Julio, left without the stimulation of frivolous attractions, hears the call of duty and enlists in the French army where he meets death at the hands of his German cousin when the two face each other in a trench raid.

Through it all are galloping the four horsemen, spoken of by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse—the grim figures of Conquest, War, Famine and Death.

Role of Speed Mad Youth Suits Johnny Hines

After all, there isn't as many factors contributing to success as is frequently claimed. Boiled down into the essence, it is usually to be found that liking one's job, whatever it may be, is the key to substantial success.

Scene from THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE

Therein is furnished the reason why Johnny (Torchy) Hines' initial feature production, "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," which comes to the New Park Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday is best fitted as a starring vehicle for this popular star.

Johnny Hines' chief delight is to act before a camera. But, next to that, he likes a fast racing car and a moonlight journey at high speed to one of the nearby coast resorts or far out into the Westchester Hills. Brimful of "pep" and personality, in the studio or on the road, he constantly calls for speed—and more speed. What he wants is action—and he will have it. His role in "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes" is wholly fitting since it is a whirlwind automobile racing story from the pen of Raymond L. Schrock, and Johnny is in action all of the time.

The story concerns the experiences of "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," the speed mad son of Whitney Barnes, millionaire manufacturer of high powered automobiles, who by his complete indifference to everything save sensational road races incurs parental displeasure resulting in his abruptly leaving home to prove that he can make his own way in the world without the aid of the Barnes name or millions.

Exemplified in "Down on the Farm" to be shown at Lyceum Theatre Tomorrow and Thursday

"Down on the Farm," United Artists' latest release, opens when the champion rooster of the ranch puts the sun to work early in the morning of what proves to be the busiest little day ever experienced on any farm. From that moment until the close of this Mack Sennett five-reel comedy sensation that will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Lyceum theatre, every resource of the enormous Sennett studios in the suburbs of Los Angeles is involved with results, thrilling, comic, hilarious, farcical and furiously funny. Thrills are divided by laughter; suspense is relaxed in grins, and dramatic action of gruff significance is interrupted by comical episodes such as only Mack Sennett can devise.

Crowds Pack Lyceum to See Tom Mix

There is a new type of western picture being shown at the Lyceum, and if one wishes to spend an hour of pleasant picture entertainment he should take the family to see Tom Mix tonight at the Lyceum in "After Your Own Heart."

This popular star certainly puts a lot of "Pep" in his pictures and in this one he has a lot of fun in introducing some novel and amusing gags. Mix plays the role of an educated Westerner, who after graduating from the Columbia University introduces modern methods in conducting his ranch, dressed like a dude and employs autos and aeroplanes for the round-up.

THE American public knows that United States Tires are never marketed on "price."

People look to the makers of U. S. Tires for quality traditions. They do not want to see a policy of superiority nibbled away for the sake of a mere price appeal.

So we say this to all those loyal followers of U. S. Tires—

Do not buy the 30 x 3 1/2 "Usco" Tread because of its new price of $10.90.

Buy it because it

Buy it because of honest quality as against "bargain offers", "inside discounts" and "special trades."

The book, now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. The monumental task of transferring it to the screen was accomplished by June Mathis, who made a scenario that from all accounts has preserved the force of the original and in many incidents heightened it. But it is the director, Rex Ingram, who has apparently achieved the most sensational success. He is reported to have set a new mark in artistry of pictorialization.

Readers of the novel will recall the story poems on the Argentine ranch of Madariaga, whose territories are as extensive as those of the great independent barons of feudal times. And Madariaga rules with feudal power. A rioting, roystering despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and yearns for a male child to carry on his tradition. His two daughters have married ranch employees—one French and the other German. Madariaga's Latin antipathy to the German son-in-law brings with it a dislike of his half-German grandchildren, but when a son is born to the Frenchman, Desnoyers, the old man finds his dream realized. The boy, Julio, is selected as heir to the huge estate and is brought up as a spoiled prince of the realm. As a young man Julio becomes the companion of Madariaga's debauched adventures in Buenos Ayres long resorts. But Madariaga dies suddenly without making a will and the German branch of the family finds itself sharing the estate equally with the Desnoyers. With this sudden wealth, the two families leave the Argentine for Europe.

The Desnoyers settle in Paris, and Julio, an expert tango dancer, becomes the sensation of the fashionable dance places. He meets a fascinating little society woman, Marguerite Laurier, and the two of them are swept into a reckless love affair that takes no count of Marguerite's elderly husband. Their butterfly mentalities do not even respond at first to the sudden shock of war that breaks about them. It is 1914 and the Germans are advancing toward Paris. Marguerite is first awakened to the realization of tremendous events. She joins the French nursing force and sacrifices her love for Julio in order to be the constant companion of her husband, who is blinded in battle. Julio, left without the stimulation of frivolous attractions, hears the call of duty and enlists in the French army where he meets death at the hands of his German cousin when the two face each other in a trench raid.

Through it all are galloping the four horsemen, spoken of by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse—the grim figures of Conquest, War, Famine and Death.

After all, there isn't as many factors contributing to success as is frequently claimed. Boiled down into the essence, it is usually to be found that liking one's job, whatever it may be, is the key to substantial success.

Scene from THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE

Therein is furnished the reason why Johnny (Torchy) Hines' initial feature production, "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," which comes to the New Park Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday is best fitted as a starring vehicle for this popular star.

Johnny Hines' chief delight is to act before a camera. But, next to that, he likes a fast racing car and a moonlight journey at high speed to one of the nearby coast resorts or far out into the Westchester Hills. Brimful of "pep" and personality, in the studio or on the road, he constantly calls for speed—and more speed. What he wants is action—and he will have it. His role in "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes" is wholly fitting since it is a whirlwind automobile racing story from the pen of Raymond L. Schrock, and Johnny is in action all of the time.

The story concerns the experiences of "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," the speed mad son of Whitney Barnes, millionaire manufacturer of high powered automobiles, who by his complete indifference to everything save sensational road races incurs parental displeasure resulting in his abruptly leaving home to prove that he can make his own way in the world without the aid of the Barnes name or millions.

Exemplified in "Down on the Farm" to be shown at Lyceum Theatre Tomorrow and Thursday

"Down on the Farm," United Artists' latest release, opens when the champion rooster of the ranch puts the sun to work early in the morning of what proves to be the busiest little day ever experienced on any farm. From that moment until the close of this Mack Sennett five-reel comedy sensation that will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Lyceum theatre, every resource of the enormous Sennett studios in the suburbs of Los Angeles is involved with results, thrilling, comic, hilarious, farcical and furiously funny. Thrills are divided by laughter; suspense is relaxed in grins, and dramatic action of grave significance is interrupted by comical episodes such as only Mack Sennett can devise.

There is a new type of western picture being shown at the Lyceum, and if one wishes to spend an hour of pleasant picture entertainment he should take the family to see Tom Mix tonight at the Lyceum in "After Your Own Heart."

This popular star certainly puts a lot of "Pep" in his pictures and in this one he has a lot of fun in introducing some novel and amusing gags. Mix plays the role of an educated Westerner, who after graduating from the Columbia University introduces modern methods in conducting his ranch, dressed like a dude and employs autos and aeroplanes for the round-up.

ARABS LIKE HYENA STEW. Some Arabs are extremely fond of hyena stew, and this despite the fact that even a dog turns from hyena meat in disgust.

Popular "USCO" TREAD
30 x 3 1/2

$10.90

THE American public knows that United States Tires are never marketed on "price."

People look to the makers of U. S. Tires for quality traditions. They do not want to see a policy of superiority nibbled away for the sake of a mere price appeal.

So we say this to all those loyal followers of U. S. Tires—

Do not buy the 30 x 3 1/2 "USCO" Tread because of its new price of $10.90.

Buy it because it is the greatest money's worth on earth today.

Buy it because of honest quality as against "bargain offers", "inside discounts" and "special trades."

An outstanding product—marked with the maker's name—the retail price quoted in plain figures.

A challenge to the tire-trader who would rather sell you an unknown tire on the basis of "so much off list"—and let you find out its real value afterward.

Prices on all U. S. Tires and Tubes Reduced Nov. 10th. Ask your dealer.
